IT Services and communications for 'asc'

Overview

Alcohol Services for the community (asc) is an independent charitable agency specialising in alcohol use who have been running for nearly 30 years and have projects and services across Bedfordshire and Luton.

Ashgoal provide an array of services to asc including a cloud hosted server and all of their communications infrastructure, from telephone lines, broadband and a cloud hosted telephone system.

Background

Ashgoal have been helping asc for over 10 years initially providing support and hardware, which now includes software and telecoms. Asc have moved from a reliance on local hardware to benefiting from the Ashgoal cloud infrastructure.

Benefits

The benefits to asc include a reliable, secure and cost effective network infrastructure, that allows them to communicate and operate productively. This in turn allows asc to concentrate their time and skills into supporting some of the most needy people in Bedfordshire and Luton.

'The Cloud hosted server that Ashgoal provides asc was around 50% less expensive than the cheapest other quote we received. Considering the specification was exactly the same, we know we are getting excellent value.'

Danny, ICT Administrator

Prior to migrating their telephone system to the Ashgoal Cloud, asc were using an aging and expensive phone system from BT. Once the BT contract has expired, asc began saving around £600 per month on their communications costs.

'We were pleased with the cost savings the actual phone system provides, but even happier when the call costs were reduced so much.'

Breege Begley, CEO
